Introduction

The Connecticut Association for Human Services created this guide in an effort to increase access and awareness of existing community programs that help families save and invest money. We hope case managers and service providers will use this resource in conjunction with our publications Your Family's Money: Simple Ways to Build a Better Future, Your Family's Money II: Managing Debt and Credit, and Your Client's Money: Practical Tools Promote Family Economic Success. It is our vision that individuals will use these community programs to build assets for their families' futures. We wish to thank the organizations included in this book for their cooperation and collaboration in providing information on the following asset-building programs.

Additional copies of this Hartford guide and editions for Bridgeport and Waterbury are available by contacting CAHS at (860) 951-2212 ext. 222, email info@cahs.org, or check on-line at www.cahs.org.

BANKING

The following information outlines how to manage and save money, the advantages of using checking and savings accounts, and where to find banks and credit unions in the greater Hartford area. Classes on using banks or credit unions can be found under the Financial Education section of this guide.

BANKING 1

Banking 101: Using Checking & Savings Accounts

What is a Checking Account?

Most banks and credit unions offer free or low-cost checking accounts. These accounts allow people to keep their money in a safe, insured location and offer different ways to manage money. With a checking or savings account banks will cash checks and automatically deposit a check into an account for free.

Also many banks provide "starter" checks allowing access to a checking account until printed checks arrive (generally, printed checks are free unless the account holder orders a special color or design). After opening a checking account banks will also issue a debit card, which makes it possible to have money readily accessible without carrying large amounts of cash.

Lastly, banks send monthly statements of all transactions, such as deposits, cashed checks, ATM withdrawals, account fees, and even interest accrued, so it is easy to keep track of what has been spent and saved.

What is a Savings Account?

Like checking accounts, many savings accounts offered by banks and credit unions are free with no minimum balance. Unlike most checking accounts, savings accounts will earn small amount of interest. This means that even a small amount saved regularly will build up!

Note: If an individual is on a ChexSystems List, some banks will allow these individuals to open a starter savings account.

Other Advantages to Checking & Savings Accounts:

When an individual files a federal income tax return at a Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) site or online and chooses to directly deposit the federal or state return, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) can deposit the tax refund directly into an individual's checking or savings account. A direct deposit refund takes https://example.com/harmonic-new-appendix a refund by mail.

Banks and credit unions offer other services such as homeownership programs and low-interest loans and can be very helpful in suggesting additional investment options. Individuals should ask about any fees or minimum balances that might apply.

What to Look for in a Bank or Credit Union:

- ★ Talk to different banks and credit unions to see what services are offered in addition to savings and checking accounts.
- ★ Compare services offered by different banks and credit unions.
- * Remember that credit unions often restrict membership to individuals who work for a specific company, live or work in a particular region, or worship at a local church.

CREDIT COUNSELING

There are many Connecticut agencies that provide credit counseling and debt management services. Several programs listed in the Financial Education section of this booklet also teach money management, skills needed to avoid debt, and how to build good credit.

Care should be taken when choosing a debt management or consolidation plan. These plans may look like the best options for overcoming debt, but they often cost money and may lead to increased debt. For more information and a list of questions to ask when dealing with a debt management agency, go to the Federal Trade Commission's website found at www.ftc.gov/bcp/conline/pubs/credit/fiscal.htm or call 1-877-FTC-HELP.

HOMEOWNERSHIP

One of the first steps to homeownership or responsible renting is becoming aware of local education and financial assistance programs. In Connecticut, many nonprofit and state agencies offer homeownership and financial education classes, which may lead to low-interest mortgages, or financial assistance with down payments, closing costs, and foreclosure prevention.

INDIVIDUAL DEVELOPMENT ACCOUNTS (IDAS)

The goal of the Connecticut Individual Development Account (IDA) Initiative is to strengthen Connecticut families and communities by offering a unique and effective way to save money. IDAs are matched savings accounts that allow participants' savings to grow quickly and encourage asset building through the creation of a small business, pursuit of a post-secondary education, or as a deposit on a house, an apartment, or car.

For more information, contact the Connecticut Department of Labor, 200 Folly Brook Boulevard, Wethersfield, Connecticut 06109-1114. Telephone (860) 263-6794.

Appendix

COMMUNITY LITERACY PROGRAMS

ESL (English as a Second Language)

Tutoring programs sponsored by nonprofit agencies to teach English to foreign language speakers.

GED (General Educational Development)

High school equivalency test, which helps increase the wages of workers who did not graduate from high school.

UTILITY ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

CEAP (Connecticut Energy Assistance Program)

Connecticut Light & Power (CL&P) provides energy assistance for low-income families and individuals. Individuals are eligible if they are already participating in Temporary Family Assistance (TFA), State Supplement to the Aged, Blind and Disabled (SSI), Refugee Cash Assistance Program, or Food Stamps, or if their gross income is at or below 150% of the federal poverty level.

Matching Payment

This CL&P program provides year-round electric service and possible forgiveness of past-due balances for low-income customers who heat their homes with electricity. The company matches every dollar paid on past due bills up to a zero balance. During last year's heating season, approximately 2,000 customers enrolled in the program and more than $330,000 in debt was forgiven.

NUSTART

CL&P helps low-income customers maintain year-round electric service. Customers can reduce and eliminate past-due balances while earning monthly credit on overdue bills. To qualify, customers must have income levels at or below 200% of the federal poverty level, have a past-due balance of $100 or more on a CL&P bill that is 60 or more days overdue, and agree to pay a monthly budget amount.

WRAP (Weatherization Residential Assistance Program)

Connecticut Light & Power provides ways to save energy and reduce utility bills during winter months. CL&P will test homes for heating and electrical efficiency, and provide energy-efficient showerheads and fluorescent light bulbs to help save water and electricity. To sign up for WRAP call 1-800-388-9727.

ChexSystems List

Banks use "ChexSystems" to help determine whether or not a person has a history of mishandling financial accounts. If an individual is on a ChexSystems' list then he or she may not be able to open a checking account. There are steps that can be taken to improve credit status with ChexSystems. For a credit report or dispute information on a ChexSystems report, write to:

ChexSystems Attn: Customer Relations 7805 Hudson Road, Suite 100 Woodbury, MN 55125

APPENDIX 42

Debt Consolidation

Debt is combined into a single loan with a fixed rate. Instead of paying multiple creditors who charge different rates at different times of the month, one larger loan is taken out, which pays off all accounts with a single monthly payment. Be sure the costs of the new loan will be less then what is already being paid to different creditors.

Debt Management Plan (DMP)

The credit counseling agency collects a monthly payment and uses this money to pay their creditors. A debt management plan may or may not be the best way to handle debt. A good credit counselor will help determine whether or not to establish a debt management plan.

Debt Negotiation

Individuals can negotiate with creditors to set up an affordable payment plan, re-age the debt (or "turn back the clock" to help repair negative credit history), or ask for a lower interest rate on money owed. There are nonprofit credit counseling agencies that help with this negotiation process. For-profit debt negotiators may claim to reduce debt by 50% or erase negative credit history after the debt is paid off, BUT these services have high fees, may fail to reduce total debt owed, and may be illegal.

Federal Poverty Level/Guidelines

The Federal Poverty Threshold is updated yearly by the Census Bureau and used to statistically represent how many Americans are living in poverty. The Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) releases Federal Poverty Guidelines as another measure of poverty in America. Federal Poverty Guidelines (or the Federal Poverty Level) is often used to determine financial eligibility for certain federal programs. HHS releases new Federal Poverty Guidelines in the month of February for that year (for example Federal Poverty Guidelines for 2006 were released in February 2006).

See chart for 2006 Federal Poverty Guidelines:

Median Area Income

Median Area Income is another way to determine poverty levels in a given area. Similar to Federal Poverty Guidelines, Median Area Income guidelines can be used to determine eligibility for programs who serve clients with low- to moderate-incomes. If a program uses median area income guidelines to determine eligibility, call for information on specific income levels.

Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA)

The VITA program offers free tax help to low- to moderate-income individuals and households. VITA sites use certified community volunteers to help residents file income tax returns including special tax credits, such as Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC), Child and Dependent Care Credit, and Child Tax Credit. Sites offer electronic filing (efiling), which shortens the amount of time it takes to receive a tax return. Individuals who e-file and have their refund deposited directly into their bank account will receive it in 8 to 10 days. VITA sites are located at community and neighborhood centers, libraries, schools, and other convenient locations. To locate the nearest VITA site dial 2-1-1 INFOLINE, or 1-800-829-1040.
